

Christian Poem: No Partiality

Christian Poem relating to accepting all people, regardless

No Partiality

It doesn't matter what we have
Or what we'd like to be,
The kingdom of God is made up of People like you and me

Whether we're rich or just getting by,
Or struggling to make ends meet,
It doesn't matter in the kingdom of God,
For Christ supplies our needs

We all have much to offer the Lord,
Our lives and all that we are,
For we can be a blessing to others
And touch another heart

God has chosen each one of us
And works within our lives
He doesn't look at our earthly treasures,
But the treasures we have inside

For deep inside we're all the same
And valued by our Lord,
We each have a purpose and a destiny
To fulfil what was planned before.
